

On December 10, 2015, i attended the Webinar: Just Elected-What do you know now?, for not only newly elected officials, but present elected and appointed officials as well. The webinar covered the duties of officials and what is expected of them in order to serve their electorate according to New York State, County and Town Law. This webinar was very interesting and informing for myself, as an appointed official.

This past month I met with Lisa Harrington, at the Amboy Historical Building and shared the documents I received from Charlene Cole, Sandy Creek Historian. We copied and archived document relevant to several families and town history. The Society and my office both have copies of these documents.

The Oswego County Municipal Historians met in Parish on November 21, 2015. Lisa Harrington accompanied me at this meeting. The meeting was concerning the upcoming Oswego County 2016 Bicentennial History Book. Everyone is preparing their towns history for inclusion in the book. Our next meeting, because of the holidays and winter traveling, will be in April 2016.

As of this report, I have received no new communications or request from the public. I will continue to work on my various projects.
